REFLEKTOR had a productive spell at the beginning of last year, including two wins in competitive races. The most recent of those came off this mark and he is fully entitled to improve for his recent comeback run at Wolverhampton. Merhoob narrowly beat Alsvinder here 13 days ago and he should confirm that form, despite a 2lb swing in the weights, while Desert Doctor looks the pick of the remainder.

LADY ALAVESA is a consistent filly and her most recent placed effort at Chelmsford suggests that she can win a race of this nature. Dashing Poet is a previous C&D winner, she was successful when last seen at Southwell and remains on a workable mark. Others to consider are Mrs Benson, Spiced and Sweet Nature.

DUTCH UNCLE ran well back in handicap company when second here last Saturday behind Nylon Speed and a return to Plating level can see him prove too strong against mostly inferior opposition. Noble Expression would have an excellent chance if running to his mark but he will need the first-time visor to make a big difference to his recent form, while Contingency Fee ran well behind the selection in a similar C&D event last month and may appreciate the return to this venue after a lacklustre display at Chelmsford on Thursday.

BREDEN has taken his form to a new level recently, with a pair of handicap successes at Kempton and Chelmsford, and he looks more than capable of completing the hat-trick having only gone up 2lb for the latter success. Isomer was disappointing at Kempton behind the selection but has been dropped 3lb in the ratings since and has William Carver's 7lb claim to assist his cause, while Chevallier has to go close on his recent efforts in similar contests.

YIMOU has performed well in two career starts for Dean Ivory in hot races and he could get off the mark at the third time of asking. Second at Chelmsford on debut at 66-1, before finishing fourth behind some talented rivals at Kempton, this is a nice opening and he should go close. Shamlahar is in the right hands to improve and could enjoy the step back up from 7f, while Dubai Eye completes the list of likely win contenders.

SHARP OPERATOR moved well for much of the way when third at Chelmsford last time and he could claim an overdue success under Richard Kingscote in this contest. A mark of 55 is there for connections to take advantage of, and he appeals more than Diamond Reflection, who got first run on the second when winning at Wolverhampton. Tesorina was far from disgraced over C&D latest and she cannot be ruled out either.
